To-day's games-Wheeling at Jackson, Washington at Saginaw, New Castle at Toledo, Youngstown at Fort Wayne.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. JACKSON, Sept. 7 .- Jackson won two games from Wheeling to-day, the first a pitchers' battle, in which young Brunsdill though a little wild, put up as fine a game as could be asked for. Jack-son's few hits in this game were well son's few hits in this game were well bunched.

The second game was a terrific slug-ging match, Jackson again leading with twenty-one safe hits for a total of thr-ty-three bases. The work of Schaub, Dickerson and McCauley, for Jackson, and Gallagher and Westlake for Wheel-ing, was grand. In batting, Violet, Schaub and Fear each had four hits in the second game, Schaub's being a sin-gle, two doubles and a homer. Kane played miscrably at second, Attend-ance at both games about 2,200. PARKERSBRG, W. Va., Sept. 7.—The reception given the local base ball club and the rooters who accompanied the team to Marietta upon their return home this evening amounted well night to an ovation. The fact that the locals had vanquished their deadliest enemies, the Mariettas, was too much for the people, and they turned out to greet the victors upon their return home. As the crowd marked down Market street with the team at the head, the cheers were like those of a political procession and everybody was apparently daffy over the victory. Parkersburg won both games by scores of 5-to 4 and 2 to 1, and that is the reason why there is such jubilation here to-night. Thousands of dollars changed hands at both games. The West Virginia State Fair for 1896 opened yesterday, and, considering that no races were scheduled to take place the attendance was good. their arrangements are noticeable. In the exposition hall is this especially marked.

An extra large number of booths and side shows are spread along the "midway" between the main building and the grand stand, and this feature of the fair is the most complete in its history. There are the usual number of cane racks, haby racks, phonographs and lunch stands, the latter are in evidence and no, person need go hungry on the grounds. Red lemonade and peanuts, ginger bread and bologna will be as plentiful as Republicans next election day. The race track is in an excellent condition and if the weather remains fair, some fast time may be expected this afternoon and throughout the week. The fair officials were on hand yesterday and it is gratifying to them to know that every department is covered and not a single hitch anywhere is possible. Secretary Hook oversees everything and he does it well, although it keeps him hustling to do it. He is here, there and everywhere apparently at the same time. He has an abe assistant in J. B. Handlan, who also has his hands full. In the Expostion hall everything is bright and clean, and yesterday afternoon the owners of the exhibits were busy getting them into shape. By 6 o'clock they were about all ready for business and to-day will present a land-some appearance.

The booths are tastefully draped and decorated, which sets off the various exhibits to good advantage. The fountain in the centre of the building is running merrily and has many new features about it.

The Ethibits.

One of the most attractive displays is that of the public schools of the city, where mass convections are in the centre of the stands.

The Ethibits.

One of the most attractive displays is that of the public schools of the city, where maps, compositions and fancy work of the public of the different schools are shown. It is the best exhibit of the kind ever given here, and reflects much credit on the teachers and scholars.

Jason C. Stamp's display of bicycles, sewing machines and sporting goods is also very attractive, as is that of A. D. Howe. W. F. Burkle's booth is hand-somely arranged with a display of saddlery and trunks. Frasher's Business College has its usual booth, where typewriting and short mand will be demonstrated by pupils of that institution.

The Wheeling Tent and Awning Company has an attractive display of variance of the contractive display of variance and according to the contractive display of variance and according to the contractive display of variance and the contractive display of variance and the contractive display of variance and contractive and contractive display of variance and contractive and cont

Milligan, Wilkin & Co. have a large display of pianos, organs and other musical instruments in the east wing, and, of course, plenty of music is furnished by an expert on the plano. Frank Schroeder's display of New Home sewing machines comes next and Fred Schwert-feger & Co.'s exhibit of harness, trunks, bleycles, etc., next. A very attructive display of photographs by O'Neill, the photographer, is also on that side of the east wing.

On the other side, Meyer & Radeliff have an exhibit of hottled soft drinks neatly arranged, next to which is an exhibit of mubrellas, by the Sprague Umbrella Company, of Norwalk, Ohlo. They have campaign umbrellas to advertise. A very interesting display is that of Mr. M. Young, the gold wire man, who was at Goetze's drug store for several weeks this summer. He makes rings, breast plans, car rings and almost everything imaginable out of gold wire and does it in full view of the crowd.

Friend and Schneider have a booth in the same wing where aluminum articles of various kinds are sold.

In the north wing the first booth is that occupied by the home made preserves and jellies made by many house-wives. They are under the supervision of Mrs. George W. Lutz.

The West Virginia Cereal Machine Company has a display of cereals and P. Loecher has a large exhibit of toys, etc. The Heymann Brewing Company has a nyramid of bottled beer nicely arranged between the Loecher and Singer sewing machine company. J. H. Kirk's art display is one of the most attractive in the building and is made up of some very rare engravings. Fruit and Vegetables.

The fruits and vegetables are of the carest types and some magnificent specimens are on exhibition, the apples, grapes, pears and quinces are finer this year than ever, and there are more of them. One man's exhibit ulone takes up half of one side of the hall.

The poultry display is the largest in the history of the fair, and some of the best specimens of chickens and ducks are on the grounds. Last night there were 1,200 of them, and several coops had not been hauled over from the city. The chickens are of all shapes and sizes from the giant shanghal down to the smallest bantam imaginable. bantam imaginable, · Live Stock.

The exhibit of live stock this year beats anything on record, and the fact that it is in the new quarters at the upper end of the grounds, maken it a pleasure, for the visitors to the fair to inspect it. There are more sheep and of better quality than ever, while the hogs are simply "out of sight." They are fat and heavy, in fact the heaviest ever brought to Wheeling. The Jersey cown are fine as silk and the whole stock display is fine.

Some of the more prominent exhibitors of live stock are:

The Halloon Ascension.

The Halloon Ascension.

Prof. Alvini will give his balloon ascension each day during the fair. He made his first attempt yesterday, and it was one of the most successful ever seen here. It was witnessed by hundred of people on house tops and hill sides. The professor has a large earmon attached to his balloon, into which he crowds himself before it is let go, and after it reaches a considerable height he is fired out and comes down slowly, holding to a parachute. His ascension yesterday was beautiful, and he came down on the west bank of the back river so casy that he never lost his footing.

IT IS CITY DAY.

People of Wheeling and Surrounding Towns will Make it a Record-Breake In Attendance.

Very prorbably the attendance to-day at the state fair will break all records at this fair in point of attendance. This is "City Day" and the business t generally are inclined to suspend business this afternoon and give their em-playes an opportunity to take in the "big show." Children, too, will be there in force, and for them a reduced rate of ad-mission has been decided upon. This should be the best day of the fair from many points of view; the races will sure-ly be among the best of the week. ness this afternoon and give their em

A foul breath is one of the greatest affilictions that a mar or woman can bare. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a dreadful discourager of affection, or rather of the demonstration of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizriness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexensable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a perfect remedy for this most common of all troubles. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. They are very mild in their action, and act without any violence whalever. In this, they are different from many preparations offered for a similar purpose. Sometimes the remedy is worse than the disease, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are mild, but they are infallibly efficient. They do the work which they are intended to do, without deranging the system in any way. They not only give immediate relief, but the benefit derived from them is permanent. You can stop taking them by and by and there is no danger that you will become a slave to their use. The druggist who tries to sell you something else "just as good," either does not know what he is talking about, or he makes more money on the other thing. If you care nore for his prosperity than you do for your own health, take the other thing. If you care more for his prosperity than you do for your own health, take the other thing. If you care more for his prosperity than you do for your own health, take the other thing. If you care more for his prosperity than you do for your own health, take the other thing.
